February 27, 2012

PEARL SOUTH PADRE RESORT
SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, TEXAS

Texas A&M University – Kingsville, the Lower Rio Grande Valley TPDES Stormwater Task Force, and the Institute for Sustainable Energy and the Environment are seeking papers for presentation at the LRGV Stormwater Management and Planning Conference 2012, which will take place at the Pearl South Padre Resort in South Padre Island, TX, March 28-30, 2012.

LRGV Stormwater 2012 is the only event in Deep South Texas dedicated exclusively to stormwater and surface-water professionals across the State including municipal stormwater and public works managers, engineering consultants, regulatory personnel, watershed management professionals, academia, and others concerned with stormwater and surface-water quality.

This special Call for Papers targets storm water related topics from academia (faculty, graduate students), private sector stakeholders and environmental institutes. Presentations for this conference will be 20-30 minutes each, including a question-and-answer period.
